

1983 article index

This index lists all feature articles that appeared in Medical Marketing & Media from January through December of 1983. Regular monthly columns are not included.

ADVERTISING

- Making Advertising Work: to compare or not to compare, by John L. Palshaw, March, p. 14.
- Making Advertising Work: Take a look behind those pretest numbers, by John L. Palshaw, May, p. 8.
- The comparative ad controversy: pros and cons, May, p. 12.
- Direct-to-consumer ads: FDA gets feedback from drug companies and doctors, July, p. 8.
- The Rufen story: consumer rebates to prime-time TV, July, p. 16.
- The Pfizer health-care series: institutional ads on a huge scale, July, p. 26.
- Is criticism of tranquilizer advertising justified? by Rick Gray, M.Ed., and Mickey Smith, Ph.D., July, p. 50.
- Making Advertising Work: a whimsical walk with a veteran researcher, by John Palshaw, September, p. 18.
- How are ad appeals to pharmacists changing? by Stephen M. Gross, Ed.D., Maria J. Posyniak, and Donna Dolinsky, Ph.D., October, p. 70.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

- Getting the salary you deserve, by Sam Skeegan, July, p. 46.
- If you get a pink slip by Sam Skeegan, September, p. 72.

Crossing the river, or, the job change question, by Sam Skeegan, October, p. 104.

ELECTRONIC MEDIA

- Detailing by computer: drug data on demand, March, p. 20.
- Cable Health programming lures prescription advertisers, July, p. 28.
- Now CME on open-channel TV, October, p. 98.

GOVERNMENT REGULATION

- What the FDA expects: pre-launch and direct-to-consumer ads, by Lloyd Millstein, Ph.D., January, p. 32.
- Speaking Out: The Commissioner looks back at Tylenol and ahead to improved procedures, by Arthur Hull Hayes, Jr., M.D., February, p. 8.
- Regulatory affairs and marketing: friends or foes? by John E. Friend, March, p. 34.
- Speaking Out: Pre-approval promotion needs guidelines, by Robert L. Dilenschneider, June, p. 10.
- The impact of patent and regulatory policies on drug innovation, by Henry G. Grabowski, Ph.D., and John M. Vernon, Ph.D., October, p. 42.
- Speaking Out: Regulatory help for the U.S. pharmaceutical market is a must! by William R. Miller, November, p. 10.

INDUSTRY OPINION

- Pharmaceutical advertising 1983: The outlook continues optimistic, February, p. 12.
- Speaking Out: Pharmacy needs "accountability statutes," by Raymond A. Gosselin, March, p. 8.
- Speaking Out: MAC: a worthwhile program gone astray, by Earle W. Lingle, Jr., R.Ph., M.S., April, p. 10.
- New product introductions: a ten-year summary, June, p. 32.
- Hot marketing from the sunbelt, by Bob Baldini, June, p. 34.
- Speaking Out: Selecting the cheapest drug is myopic! by Bruce R. Siecker, Ph.D., September, p. 12.

INDUSTRY SURVEYS

- 1982 health-care agency profiles update, March, p. 40.
- First annual health-care researcher survey, May, p. 52; addenda, June, p. 40 and July, p. 60.
- There's more than medicine to health-care promotion, September, p. 22.
- 1983 health-care agency profiles, December, p. 10.
- 1983 Canadian health care agency profiles, December, p. 70.

INTERNATIONAL MARKETING

- Every promotional item is available worldwide, May, p. 48.

1983 article index

This index lists all feature articles that appeared in Medical Marketing & Media from January through December of 1983. Regular monthly columns are not included.

ADVERTISING

- Making Advertising Work: to compare or not to compare, by John L. Palshaw, March, p. 14.
- Making Advertising Work: Take a look behind those pretest numbers, by John L. Palshaw, May, p. 8.
- The comparative ad controversy: pros and cons, May, p. 12.
- Direct-to-consumer ads: FDA gets feedback from drug companies and doctors, July, p. 8.
- The Rufen story: consumer rebates to prime-time TV, July, p. 16.
- The Pfizer health-care series: institutional ads on a huge scale, July, p. 26.
- Is criticism of tranquilizer advertising justified? by Rick Gray, M.Ed., and Mickey Smith, Ph.D., July, p. 50.
- Making Advertising Work: a whimsical walk with a veteran researcher, by John Palshaw, September, p. 18.
- How are ad appeals to pharmacists changing? by Stephen M. Gross, Ed.D., Maria J. Posyniak, and Donna Dolinsky, Ph.D., October, p. 70.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

- Getting the salary you deserve, by Sam Skeegan, July, p. 46.
- If you get a pink slip ..., by Sam Skeegan, September, p. 72.

Crossing the river, or, the job change question, by Sam Skeegan, October, p. 104.

ELECTRONIC MEDIA

- Detailing by computer: drug data on demand, March, p. 20.
- Cable Health programming lures prescription advertisers, July, p. 28.
- Now CME on open-channel TV, October, p. 98.

GOVERNMENT REGULATION

- What the FDA expects: pre-launch and direct-to-consumer ads, by Lloyd Millstein, Ph.D., January, p. 32.
- Speaking Out: The Commissioner looks back at Tylenol and ahead to improved procedures, by Arthur Hull Hayes, Jr., M.D., February, p. 8.
- Regulatory affairs and marketing: friends or foes? by John E. Friend, March, p. 34.
- Speaking Out: Pre-approval promotion needs guidelines, by Robert L. Dilenschneider, June, p. 10.
- The impact of patent and regulatory policies on drug innovation, by Henry G. Grabowski, Ph.D., and John M. Vernon, Ph.D., October, p. 42.
- Speaking Out: Regulatory help for the U.S. pharmaceutical market is a must! by William R. Miller, November, p. 10.

INDUSTRY OPINION

- Pharmaceutical advertising 1983: The outlook continues optimistic, February, p. 12.
- Speaking Out: Pharmacy needs "accountability statutes," by Raymond A. Gosselin, March, p. 8.
- Speaking Out: MAC: a worthwhile program gone astray, by Earle W. Lingle, Jr., R.Ph., M.S., April, p. 10.
- New product introductions: a ten-year summary, June, p. 32.
- Hot marketing from the sunbelt, by Bob Baldini, June, p. 34.
- Speaking Out: Selecting the cheapest drug is myopic! by Bruce R. Siecker, Ph.D., September, p. 12.

INDUSTRY SURVEYS

- 1982 health-care agency profiles update, March, p. 40.
- First annual health-care researcher survey, May, p. 52; addenda, June, p. 40 and July, p. 60.
- There's more than medicine to health-care promotion, September, p. 22.
- 1983 health-care agency profiles, December, p. 10.
- 1983 Canadian health care agency profiles, December, p. 70.

INTERNATIONAL MARKETING

- Every promotional item is available worldwide, May, p. 48.

The 20-year decline in worldwide drug development, August, p. 10.
Where drug marketing patterns are similar, by Arthur E. Hass, Jr., November, p. 78.

MAIL COMMUNICATIONS

Getting around the wall of high-prescriber indifference, by Robert F. Wilson, January, p. 14.
Find clones of your best customers, by Robert F. Wilson, March, p. 30.
In defense of those elaborate mailings, by Robert F. Wilson, August, p. 46.
Design promotion that does double duty, by Robert F. Wilson, November, p. 64.

MARKET REVIEWS

Pharmaceutical advertising: Record spending levels continue, January, p. 10.
Health-care company earnings: A rousing finish for 1982, April, p. 38.
A strong start for 1983 Canadian medical advertising, June, p. 16.
The growth rate slips for Canadian medical advertising, October, p. 20.

MARKETING RESEARCH

Is your marketing research giving you debris or decisions? by Joy Scott and Larry Levin, January, p. 22.
Ad testing? It makes a difference if the viewer prescribes, by John Casartelli, April, p. 35.
IMS reassesses its mission, July, p. 38.
Put your questionnaire under the microscope, by Greg Spagna, September, p. 90.
Researching consumers: are they really different? by John L. Palshaw,

November, p. 16.
What the decision-maker expects from market research, November, p. 22.
Pharmaceutical marketing research: Turn your comedies and tragedies into an epic, by Joy Scott and Larry Levin, December, p. 58.

MARKETING — POTENTIAL MARKETS

RNs and Rx's: a surprising connection, January, p. 44.
Marketing to the Pharmacist: Three trends will dominate pharmacy practice, by George F. Archambault, Pharm.D., J.D., February, p. 26.
The pharmacist as prescriber: update on a California experiment, April, p. 40.
The retail druggist: a growing influence in drug selection, August, p. 38.
The exciting promise of new drug delivery systems, September, p. 96.
Marketing Medical Equipment: big bangs for small bucks, by David M. McCarty, October, p. 10.
Marketing to the marketing-minded physician, October, p. 32.
Don't overlook the nurse practitioner, by Cynthia Jo Leitch, R.N., Ph.D., and Roberta Lang, October, p. 84.
Hospital pharmacy continues to expand, October, p. 118.
What influences acceptance of new medical technology? by Erica L. Drazen, November, p. 44.

MARKETING — TOOLS & TECHNIQUES

Winds of change in the marketing of medical devices, by Don E. Spyrisson, February, p. 32.
A standout exhibit will keep paying its way, by Frank Ferrante, May, p. 32.

The telephone marketing alternative, by Richard L. Ray, May, p. 44.
Determining the right promotional mix, by Edward Roseman, Ph.D., June, p. 22.
Psychographic profiles: portraying the special traits of the specialties, August, p. 20.
Four productive uses of teleconferencing, by Loren Zesch, August, p. 32.
Generate catalog interest with a contest, August, p. 56.
How much for marketing resources? by Edward Roseman, Ph.D., September, p. 78.
Teach the "human quotient" in target marketing! by Jack R. Snader and Ann Kane Boland, October, p. 110.
There's a new alternative to the AMA physician list, November, p. 70.

PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

Rx for those hiring headaches, by Sam Skeegan, March, p. 42.
Can personnel testing predict productivity? September, p. 112.
Marketing researchers research themselves, by Mila C. Montemayor, Barbara McAulay, and Guillermo Bustos, September, p. 58.

SELLING/DETAILING

When your product is displaced from the selling cycle, by Edward Roseman, Ph.D., February, p. 40.
A walk through the doctor's decision-making process, by George R. Silverman, April, p. 16.
Unlocking the physician's psyche, by Edward Roseman, Ph.D., April, p. 28.
Toward an adult doctor-sales rep relationship, by Bill O'Brien, September, p. 48.
They're revamping sales forces to cope with new demands, by Edward Roseman, Ph.D., November, p. 52.